COINS OF GREAT BRITAIN,
Second Issue, copyright 1963
by Empire Coin Company, Inc., Empire Building, Johnson City, New York.

We were most gratified by your overwhelming response to our first COINS OF GREAT BRITAIN catalog. We printed 5000 copies, but received so many requests that we could have sent out over 7000 copies if we had them! This second issue of the catalog goes to all those who ordered coins from our first catalog plus those whose requests for the first issue were unable to be filled.

Orders for coins from our first catalog did not follow any particular pattern but were strong in all areas. We could have sold several 1839 Una and the Lion five pound pieces, unfortunately we had only one. The same was true of many other coins in the listing. Copper and silver coins from about 1860 to date were very popular...probably as there are albums available for them. Probably the most often ordered coin was the 1956 farthing, an appealing coin at its present price due to the fact that it is the lowest mintage farthing since 1838!

This catalog lists many new and important acquisitions and contains items of interest in all series. We again emphasize that our stock, at the present time, is an "old time" selection with many uncirculated and proof pieces. Most of these were purchased by us some time ago and will be irreplaceable once they are sold. No other dealer anywhere in the world has such a wide selection of top grade pieces. During a recent trip to Europe we tried to find choice pieces of Victorian coinage to add to our stock. We were only able to locate a few dozen pieces; in fact, the situation was reversed. One English dealer ordered a sizeable amount of English coins from us to be sold to his clients.

Uncirculated English coins more than a few years old are truly scarce. Unlike their American counterparts, English collectors did not start actively collecting coins of their country by date and mintmark until just a year or two ago. They were more interested in Greek and Roman coins together with pre-1800 English issues. Until recently English catalogs grouped the coins of Victoria and later by types and did not list the dates individually. As a result there was little demand or interest in assembling date series. As a further result English coins were not saved in quantity by English collectors...the American custom of accumulating rolls and bags of each year was unheard of in England. Thus many issues of comparatively recent years are quite scarce in mint condition.

Now is the time to add to your collection or investment holding of choice English coins. Witness what happened to the price and availability of uncirculated and proof early Canadian coins once thousands of United States collectors began collecting the series. The same thing will undoubtedly happen to English. English coins are very inexpensive when compared to U.S. and Canadian issues of comparable rarity.

1956 Farthings

Last year we purchased an unusual group of 1956 farthings, and still have a few thousand pieces on hand. The 1956 farthing was one of the most popular coins in our first catalog... it is the rarest farthing issued in this century, and the last year in which farthings were coined. We will continue selling them at our old prices until our stock is reduced to a few hundred pieces. During a recent trip to England we were quoted a wholesale price of five shillings per coin (approx. 70¢) by one of the country's largest dealers. Now is the time to order 1956 farthings. Our prices are attractive, particularly for quantity lots. All are select choice BU specimens.

One BU specimen.....	.90
Ten BU specimens.....	6.50
100 BU specimens.....	55.00
1000 BU specimens.....	475.00

Note: You will observe that our prices for the above lots of 100 and 1000 BU pieces are less than the Whitman Guide Book price for Fine.

Note: Nineteenth century mintage figures from the Royal Mint are unreliable as they pertain to the quantity of coins minted in a given year, but not necessarily bearing the same date. Hence the large mintage reported for the 1845 may be mostly coins dated 1844 or 1846. A more obvious example is the 1839 halfpenny, for which a large mintage for circulation is shown... as 1839's were struck only in Proof, the mintage undoubtedly was dated 1838.

SILVER MAUNDY SETS

Silver Maundy sets consist of a silver penny, two-pence, three-pence and groat (fourpence) and are issued once yearly on Maundy Thursday, the day before Good Friday.

Maundy sets are interesting to collect. An unbroken date sequence of sets may be collected from 1820 to the present time.

All Maundy sets are scarce. The sets of George VI and Elizabeth could be called rare; of the latter monarch the average set mintage is only about 1100 sets.

ENGLISH CONDOR TOKENS

These halfpenny size tokens (the size of an American large cent) were issued privately in England from about 1787 to 1796. Collecting them by varieties was very popular in England and a book, "The Virtuoso's Companion," was issued describing and illustrating many pieces. To meet collector demand many different mulings and edge lettering differences were issued...many of which sold for high prices at the time. One satirical token, obviously a commentary on the fad of token collecting and consequent high prices, showed a donkey on one side with the legend: ASSES CHASING AFTER HALF PENCE!

Many of these condor tokens, as they are called, have been adopted into the United States series. Familiar examples are the Kentucky token, Franklin Press token, Myddleton token, Talbot, Allum & Lee cents and many of the Washington issues.

Rare condor tokens such as described above sell from about $20 to several hundred dollars (Myddleton) when offered. There are many other tokens, equally rare, which sell for a fraction of the price. We offer select brown Uncirculated choice condition pieces, with English legends, at the prices listed below. An interesting selection will be sent. Satisfaction guaranteed.
